

I'd like to thank all our viewers for a strong showing during our first two broadcast weeks. Lot's more wonderful episodes to come.

We proudly stand behind our efforts to both showcase and make cycling fun, accessible, safe, and attainable for all. But really, it's communities and people that make the big difference. We salute the bike community in Tampa, FL and the work they do to enhance bike safety and accessibility; and hope you enjoy our Tampa episode when it airs later in the series. Here's a link that looks at one of that region's issues. <http://www2.tbo.com/news/opinion/2012/may/14/naopino1-a-safe-haven-that-should-remain-upright-ar-403096/>
