

Producing a new television series takes a tremendous effort and watching our viewers respond with questions and ideas makes the effort all worthwhile. The series is about you, the viewer. It's about educating, entertaining, and treating you to new places and ways of exploring your own backyards.

I'm thrilled to share that starting August 15th even more viewers can enjoy Pedal America®. Please let your friends and family members know that their local PBS Create® TV stations will broadcast the series on Wednesday and Sunday mornings at 9:30 a.m. (EST) with re-broadcasts on Wednesday afternoons. Check local listings.

Continue to send us your ideas and comments and we'll do our best to give you shout-outs on our show, website, and Facebook pages.
